

The Exciting Launch of the...

Michael Knight Trust Fund

“I WANT TO WORSHIP”

Before he died, Michael had plans to learn how to lead Christian worship through music in Churches. His training was to start in September at Nexus Trust Coventry, a Christian

Worship training school. Mike worked 11 months with one week holiday in that time to save hard toward this dream, but died 50 days before reaching that goal.

SEED MONEY

We believe the funds Mike left behind is “seed money” that should be planted in the lives of other young people who aspire to worship as King David did (2Sam.6:14). The Michael Knight Trust Fund www.michaelknighttrust.com is set up now, to provide funding for sponsorship toward Christian worship training and to assist churches in developing countries with music equipment or training for their worship leaders.

THE RESPONSE

We have already received an exciting response. Firstly, from those who originally sponsored Mike, and unanimously chose to redirect their gifts to the Michael Knight Trust Fund. Secondly, from friends and family who encouraged us to set up this Trust, offering contributions to add to Mike’s hard work and savings. Finally, from a generous friend who gave a Gibson Les Paul electric guitar (1960 classic style) worth approx. GBP£1500 for auction - the proceeds will go to the Michael Knight Trust Fund.

YOUR INVESTMENT

This is your opportunity to invest in the future ministries of next generation worship leaders. Would you consider partnering with us to help other future worship leaders, by financially giving to the Michael Knight Trust Fund.
